Quality online training

The team of Swiss500 is devoted to assisting the traders and making sure that their important investments are handled in the right way. To ensure the future courage and determination of the traders, Swiss500 offers an incredible opportunity to test and get familiarized with the platform, without actually risking your capital. We do this with our Quality online training program. All registered users can get access to the training program and jump into the investment world. In our program, you are free to make demo investments on real asset prices and see the results. Not only that, but you can practice strategies and techniques till you feel confident enough to transition to real money and start building your investment portfolio.
